

'WHO HAS MEASURED OUT THE WATERS

With the hollow of his hand?
And marked off
The heavens with a span?
To whom will you compare me
That I should be like him?
Says the Holy One.

*Have you never known?
Have you never heard?
Have you not been told?
Have you never understood?
That the Lord is God,
He's the everlasting God,
The Creator of the ends of the earth.*

Who in scales has weighed the mountains?
Or held nations in his hands?
Stretched out the heav'ns
Like a tent to dwell within?
To whom will you compare me
That I should be like him?
Says the Holy One.

Those who wait upon the Lord
Their strength shall be renewed;
They will soar up
As upon the eagles wings.
'To whom will you compare me
That I should be like him?

Says the Holy One.

© David Burden Gethsemane

Music