

LORD YOU KNOW the things I've done,
The right and all the wrong,
Ev'ry move Your Spirit knows each one.
Lord, You know the words I've said
Before they're on my tongue,
From Your Spirit's knowledge I can't run.

*But the cross declares
We are accepted and forgiven,
By Christ's blood and righteousness
With God we are at peace.
And from all barriers and chains
He brings release,
We can draw near to God
And worship Him again.*

Lord, You know the things I've thought,
Those feelings deep inside,
From Your Spirit's searching I can't hide.
Lord, You know my inmost fears,
The things that trouble me,
No pretending for Your eye can see.

*But the cross declares.....
.... We can draw near,
Yes we can draw near
And worship God again.*
