

LORD, LIKE A SHIP

Drifting far from the shore line
I've drifted at times
From Your side.
Yet on the shore,
Though I've not always realised,
You've stayed with Your arms
Opened wide.

*You're the everlasting God
So faithful, firm and sure.
Throughout every thing
Your truth and love remain.
You're the everlasting God,
Tomorrow ever more
And whatever I do
You stay the same.*

Lord, like a ship
Reeling, tossed by the storm,
So helpless at times
I have been.
But when to You
I have turned You have spoken,
To calm all my
Turmoil within.

Lord, like a ship
Carried far on the breeze,
With sails all unfurled
To the wind;
Open me Lord
To the breath of Your Spirit,
So always Your course
I might find.

*You're the everlasting God
So faithful, firm and sure.
Throughout every thing
Your truth and love remain.
You're the everlasting God,
Tomorrow ever more
And whatever I do
You stay the same.
Yes, whatever I do
You stay the same.*
